FCC Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Statement

- 15.21 You are cautioned that changes or modifications not expressly approved by the part responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.
- 15.105(b) The equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. This equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on; the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:
- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
 - Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
 - Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
 - Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.
- This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:
1. This device may not cause harmful interference, and
 2. This device must accept any interference received, including interference which may cause undesired operation.

FCC RF Interference Statement:

This equipment complies with FCC's radio frequency exposure limits set forth for an uncontrolled environment. End users must follow the specific operating instructions for satisfying RF exposure compliance. The antenna used for this transmitter must not transmit simultaneously with any other antenna or transmitter, except in accordance with FCC's multi-transmitter product procedures. Instructions concerning human exposure to radio frequency electromagnetic fields - to comply with FCC Section 1.310 for human exposure to radio frequency electromagnetic fields, a distance of at least 6 cm. between the equipment and all persons should be maintained during the operation of the equipment.

Industry Canada (IC)/CIN: V1.0 A.0

- This device complies with Industry Canada licence-exempt RSS standard(s). Operation is subject to the following two conditions:
1. This device may not cause harmful interference, and
 2. This device must accept any interference that may be received or that may cause undesired operation.
- This device must accept any interference, including interference that may cause undesired operation of the device.

IC/RF Interference Statement:

This equipment complies with the RSS-102 exemption from routine RF exposure evaluation for use in an uncontrolled environment.

European CE Notice

Your Cardo product the "Product" is in conformity with the following essential requirements of Council Directive 2014/53/EU Articles 3.1.a, 3.1.b and 3.2. The Product is manufactured in accordance with Annex II of the above directive.

For the complete EU Declaration of Conformity please refer to the Cardo Systems website: www.cardoystems.com

In some regions or states, the use of mobile communications system is prohibited or restricted. Check all local, state and federal laws and regulations (the "Law") that apply to your region before using the Product and be mindful that compliance with all Laws is the user's responsibility. Use of the Product is void in countries where its use is prohibited or restricted.

No part of the body should come in contact with the antenna during operation of the equipment. Use Product only where safe, and avoid special gas stations, fuel depots or around vehicles with the hearing aids and medical devices only after consulting a physician or specialist. Make sure to install and mount the Product in a stable manner.

Health Warnings:

Hearing Loss: Audio devices can cause hearing loss. Employ care and avoid exposure to excessive volume levels that may cause or impair hearing or lead to hearing loss. Permanent hearing loss may occur if Product are used at high volume for prolonged periods.

RF Signals: Most electronic equipment is shielded from RF signals. However, certain electronic equipment may not be shielded against the RF signals emanating from your wireless equipment.

Packmakers: The Audio Device Manufacturers Association recommends that a minimum separation of about six inches (15 cm) or to be maintained between a mobile phone or wireless device and a packmaker to avoid potential interference with the packmaker. So do not use interference with the functionality of personal medical devices.

Hearing Aids: Some devices may interfere with certain hearing aids. In the event of such interference, you should consult your hearing aid manufacturer to discuss alternatives.

Other Medical Devices: If you use any other personal medical device, contact the manufacturer of your device and/or your physician to determine if it is adequately shielded from interference caused by external RF energy. Your physician may be able to assist you in obtaining this information.
