Subject: FCCID# Report Filing with Wrong User's Manual

On January 27, 2003, a TCB acting in BI's behalf submitted the documents that supported the certification of an intentional radiator with FCCID# CSQHG200C. Included in this document package was a complete user's manual, titled "BI HomeGuard 200 Officer's Reference Manual". Included in this manual is information that is not intended to be viewed by an offender on electronic house arrest or by competitors. The Manual is for use only by Officers and other authorized personnel using BI equipment.

The original intent of BI Incorporated was that only the first seven pages, containing required FCC statements, copyright, and trademark information be included in the document package. Unfortunately, the entire document (130 pages) was included by the TCB.

BI Incorporated is requesting that the full 130-page Officer's Manual be removed from the files and be replaced with the attached short version that contains only the first seven pages of the manual.

Sincerely,
