

Voltages and Currents in Final Amplification Circuit

Voltages are all 5 VDC and below. The amplifier runs on 5 VDC with peak run current of 500 mA however normal operating current is 375 mA at room temperature. The final power amplifier contains active feedback, which prevents current run-away due to VSWR mismatch (i.e. open or short circuit).