RE: FCC ID: H8NWLC3030_ATCB000779

Attention: Stephanie Hung

I have a few comments on this Application.

1. How is the FCC ID label attached so as to be 'permanently affixed' as required by the FCC?
2. Please note that the FCC has stated that non US channels cannot be selectable. This means that only channels 1 through 11 (2412 to 2462MHZ) can be available on US sold WLAN devices. Your manual states that the user can select other than US channels. This is not allowed by the FCC. This device, as sold in the US, must not have user selectable frequencies allowing operation on non US allowed channels. As currently submitted, this device is not certifiable for US operation. In order to be sold in the US, the software select ability for non-US channels must be removed and the device must be made so only channels 1-11 are possible for US operation. -
3. FYI – no action needed. Page 63 of the manual has the non-modification caution statement listed twice. This statement only need be in the manual one time.
4. FYI – when reporting only QP conducted readings, the QP reading MUST be compared to both the QP and Average limits to show compliance. Please note that this means the device is actually 10 dB closer to the limit than you have reported. Please follow the FCC rules and accepted interpretations when reporting margins.
5. Please note that the limit listed in the table on page 25 states 574dBuV/m (fourth entry 2483.5MHz). While this is an obvious typo, the correct limit MUST be listed. Please correct this error. -
