A close-up photograph of the internal components of a laptop. The image shows the green motherboard with various components labeled, including capacitors (C253, C2512, C2548) and integrated circuits (H244b, H244a). A yellow SATA-to-USB adapter cable is connected to a hard drive, which is partially visible. The hard drive is a 2.5-inch model with a label that reads "LX193-221M1". The laptop's internal structure, including the black plastic housing and the silver metal heat sink, is also visible.
