This image shows the internal components of a Logitech webcam. The green printed circuit board (PCB) is populated with various electronic components, including a lens assembly at the top, a microphone array, and several integrated circuits. Two red rectangular boxes highlight specific areas: the top box encloses the main processing and sensor components, while the bottom box highlights the connector area for the USB cable. The PCB is labeled with '© 2021 Logitech' and '21-002385-003'. A QR code is visible on the top right of the board.
