

Question: Please justify the reason for testing a limited range of frequency for spurious emissions.

Since the only change is the addition of an antenna, only the restricted bands near the antenna's range of operation were checked.