A photograph showing a 3D-printed white component, two green circular PCBs, and two green rectangular PCBs, all with wires attached. The components are placed on a light gray surface next to a black ruler for scale. The ruler has markings in centimeters (0 to 100) and millimeters (0 to 10). The white component is a complex, multi-ported structure. The green circular PCBs are small, round boards with various components and wires. The green rectangular PCBs are small, rectangular boards with various components and wires. The wires are black and red.

A photograph of a circular green PCB antenna with a black cable, placed next to a ruler for scale. The antenna is labeled 'R24' and '200510 Dec 2'. The ruler shows measurements in millimeters and centimeters. The antenna is a WiFi 2.4G AUX Antenna (RX Only).
