

INTERTEK TESTING SERVICES

Purpose of Application

The purpose of this application is to report changes in the previous certified product for production reason. The main modifications are the PCB shape and layout due to the change of handset enclosure. The RF module of handset is remained the same, and all other designs including electronic and electrical are identical. Besides, they share the same base unit.