

Sample of FCC ID Label

The device is so small that the Two-Part warning statement does not have to go on the device. It will be really hard to read. We remove the Two-Part statement from the device since we already have it in the manual.

