To Whom It May Concern

Regarding certification of our product VLU6M3, FCC ID: 2AXBF-VLU6M32207-01.

We are requesting Long Term Confidentiality to be applied to the User Manual (document ref. RLTN0205), on the grounds that it contains proprietary technical information which, if made available for public viewing, could compromise the integrity of the product and its commercial success.

The User Manual is intended for professional installation technicians, obligated under a NDA to keep the information secure.

An example of our NDA has been submitted along with the certification application. This NDA would be used when setting up agreements with installation partners, to ensure that such proprietary technical information is kept confidential.

Yours sincerely

Peter Sanders
