Ultra Plus Reflect

A black, oval-shaped electronic device, possibly a handheld game console or a portable media player, is shown from a top-down perspective. The device is open, revealing a white battery pack on the left side and a large, rectangular, light-colored screen in the center. The battery pack has four circular cells. The screen is surrounded by a black frame. On the right side of the device, there are several buttons and a small display area. The device is resting on a light-colored wooden surface.
