

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. FCC Warning Operation is subject to the following two conditions: Specific Absorption Rate (SAR) information SAR tests (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, are conducted using standard operating positions and (2) this device must accept any interference accepted by the FCC with the phone transmitting at received, including interference that may cause its highest certified power level in all tested frequency undesired operation. Any Changes or modifications bands, although the SAR is determined at the highest not expressly approved by the party responsible for certified power level, the actual SAR level of the compliance could void the user's authority to operate phone while operating can be well below the maximum the equipment.

value, in general, the closer you are to a wireless base station antenna, the lower the power output.

Before a new model phone is a available for sale to the public, it must be tested and certified to the FCC that it does not exceed the exposure limit established by the FCC, Tests for each phone are performed in positions and locations (e.g. at the ear and worn on

For body worn operation, this mobile phone has been product or when used with an accessory that contains no metal and that positions the handset a minimum tested and meets the FCC RF exposure guidelines when used with an accessory designated for this the body)as required by the FCC.

of 0.5cm from the body.

Note: This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates uses and can radiate radio fre quency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures: —Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.

- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- --Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- -Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.

6.the cell broadcast

Enter Message menu to view Broadcast list

The purpose of cell broadcasting is to inform mobile phone users of the danger, such as serious threats, child abduction and so on, through some alerts issued by operators, the function is activated by default

Quick Starter Guide