Sample Label of Rx

This is to certify that the label shown above will be the production label to be used on production units of model MCM7080. FCC ID number: LLP-MCM7080.

Since the size of the Rx is too small, the following information will not be printed on the device. Instead it will be noted in the user manual for the Rx.

"This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

- (1) This device may not cause harmful interference; and
- (2) This device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation."
