No problem, I'm uploading the said files to you as I speak - but please note that we did upload them with the original submission (please see the attached "comloadnt" page from your own website). I think this is the second or third time something like this has happened, last time it was due to a virus scan your system did. Our network runs a firewall and McAfee VirusScan 7.1.0 and we see nothing in the files we sent you. If you are seeing something please let us know.
