Subject: Explanation of Letter of Authorization (LoA) issued to Host Integrators

The attached LoA is Broadcom's general agreement template for modular approvals that apply in a number of countries. This LOA template is only for agreements and authorization with specific host integrators on these type of modular approvals.

As such, the LoA's provision of the information for countries listed in Exhibit 1 (test reports / grants / certificates for the module) may help the host integrator in cases where for example the country approval information is not public or where the certificate is actually part of the report, e.g. Japan. Even the FCC reports are useful to host integrators to determine appropriate test cases for the verification tests recommended in KDB 996369 D04 of the modular KDB guidance series of publications.

As documented in the modular installation instructions, the general term OEM manufacturer referenced in the LoA is limited to the Host integrator.
