Solder Board-Component View 2	 A photograph showing a circular, dark, textured component, likely a solder board component, placed on a blue textured surface. A black ruler with white markings is positioned horizontally and vertically next to the component for scale. The component has a white circular outline and two small blue dots.
Antenna View	Wireless Charging Antenna  A photograph showing two circular components, likely wireless charging antennas, placed on a blue textured surface. A black ruler with white markings is positioned horizontally and vertically next to the components for scale. The component on the left is a copper-colored spiral antenna, and the component on the right is a white circular antenna. A red box highlights the copper-colored spiral antenna, and a red line points from the label 'Wireless Charging Antenna' to it.
