The above materials contain trade secrets and proprietary information not customarily released to the public. The public disclosure of these materials may be harmful to the applicant and provide unjustified benefits to its competitors.

Before setting up the AV5 and AV7 FCC test case, the applicant and the FCC test lab had signed Non-Disclosure Agreement, the FCC test lab confirmed that they knows well that all the documentations provided by the applicant were defined as confidential information. The reason why the BOMs were not included in the original confidentiality letter is that the FCC test lab made the mistake of not including the BOMs in the confidential treatment request list of that letter.

The applicant are aware that the BOM information has been publically available since the day the FCC grant was issued. The applicant understands that pursuant to Section 0.457 of the Rules, disclosure of this application and all accompanying documentation will not be made before the date of the Grant for this application.

Sincerely,

Chengdu Vantron Technology, Ltd.
