

1.2 Purpose of Application

The purpose of this application is to report changes in the original certified product for reason of cost effectiveness. The main modifications are the MCU source of the base unit and modified layout on handset unit for production reason. The RF module of base unit and handset remain the same.